

Staying Well Together Through COVID-19

Every employer is affected by the current global pandemic — whether that means helping employees get the care they need, connecting them to important health information and updates, or providing resources for their well-being during these unprecedented times. We're here for you in this challenging time, providing physical, emotional, financial, and care resources. Here are some of the enhancements we've already made, with more to come.

COVID Education and Self-Triage:

Dedicated FAQ Page

When employees have questions, they want clear, concise answers they can actually understand. We created a dedicated COVID-19 FAQ page. It's clinically reviewed, and written in simple, straightforward language.

Self Checker

Employees can assess their symptoms and determine what steps to take to be evaluated.

COVID-19 Testing Center Locator

Individuals can search for nearby testing centers.

Staying Well Resources:

Staying Well Curated Resources

Our curated page of resources, activities, robust library of articles, and other COVID-related content will help your employees manage stress and anxiety, find solo activities to replace a group-exercise routine, connect with relevant communities or learn creative ways to eat well.

Special Offers from Rally Marketplace

The Rally Marketplace offers deals for meal delivery, at-home workouts and stress reduction programs that can help individuals maintain their healthy habits during periods of social isolation.

Recommendations to Follow Guidelines

Messaging throughout the Health & Wellness section that encourages members to follow CDC and state guidelines before participating in any health activities such as Challenges and Missions.

Alternative Opportunities to Earn Rewards

Individuals whose employers offer Gym Check-In rewards can now earn their reward by completing a mini questionnaire to self report physical activity.

Care Resources:

Persistent Messaging about Provider Visits

Individuals are encouraged to call their provider to confirm availability, service options and any special instructions before their visit.

Keyword Search Results

When someone searches for COVID-19 or other relevant terms, we're highlighting virtual visits (if their employer offers it) and the primary care provider category in the results and include a link to the COVID-19 FAQ's page.

If you have questions about Rally products and communications, please contact your account manager.
